Cool Grey Concrete 5068, Honey Ash 4022
and Roasted Oak 4079

The recent makeover of the Merivale FreshChoice Supermarket boasts 1460m² of Expona Commercial Cool Grey Concrete 5068 throughout the main supermarket floor combined with 250m² of Expona Commercial Honey Ash 4022 and Expona Commercial Roasted Oak 4079 in the climate controlled Wine Cellar.

Part of the complete makeover included extensive substrate preparation following historical slab issues, isolated high moisture readings and changes in layout over the years all compounded by earthquake damage.

Working alongside Christchurch based retailer, Flooring Specialists and contractor Canterbury Floor-makers, Polyflor NZ wrote a Total System Warranty to ensure all issues such as moisture were controlled and the substrate finished to a high standard to receive the Expona Commercial Tiles and Planks.

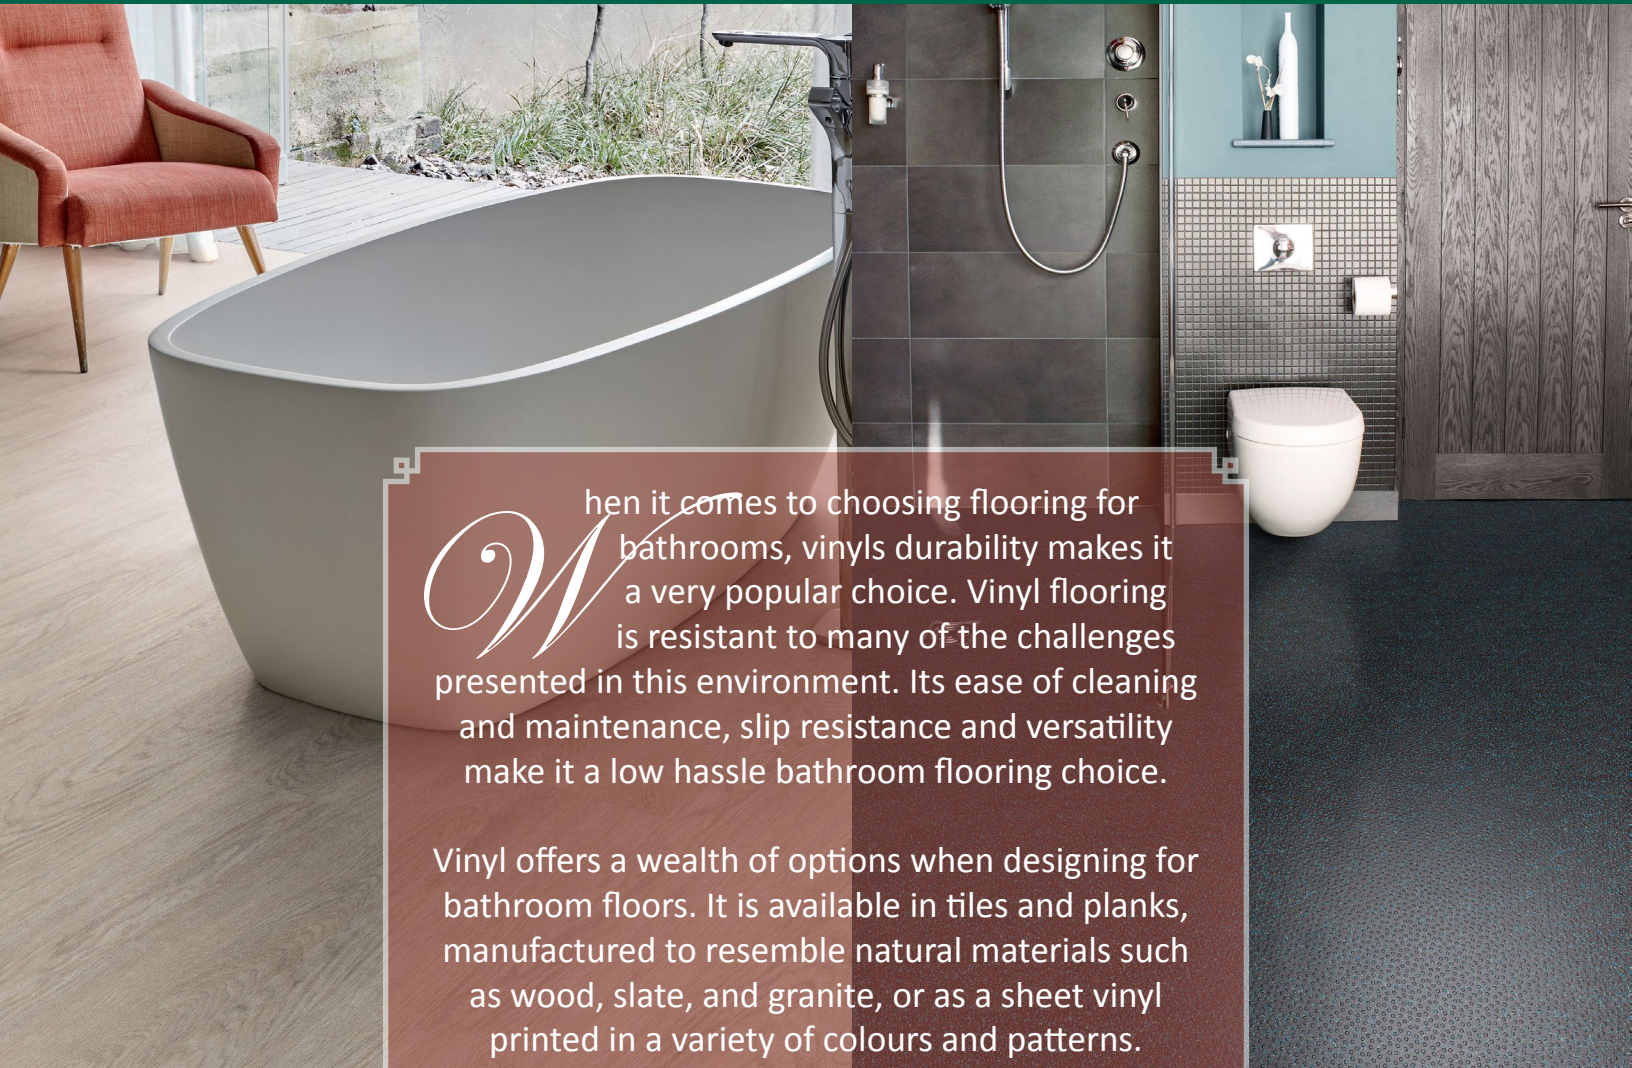

Using the Kiesel Total System Warranty system as specified, including a full Okapox GF epoxy moisture barrier, Kiesel Ki1 Floor levelling compound, Okamul PU polyurethane and Star 100 Plus adhesives, the Canterbury Floor-makers have achieved a fantastic result to a very high standard of workmanship.

"Demanding projects, demanding timeframes and correct outcomes are not always easy to achieve. Utilising Polyflors Total System Warranty and resilient LVT ranges combined with the superb Kiesel product range will ensure a result you and your client can be proud to walk all over" says Jamie Falconer, owner of Canterbury Floor-makers.

The Beast

(Installed by Carpet King Flooring Design Palmerston North)

Product Used

Saarfloor Noppe Stud Tile

Sir Michael Hill's luxurious 40-metre-long catamaran, dubbed "The Beast" took 22 months to build and weighs 480 tonnes.

The catamaran will be available for commercial hire and will launch in March 2019.

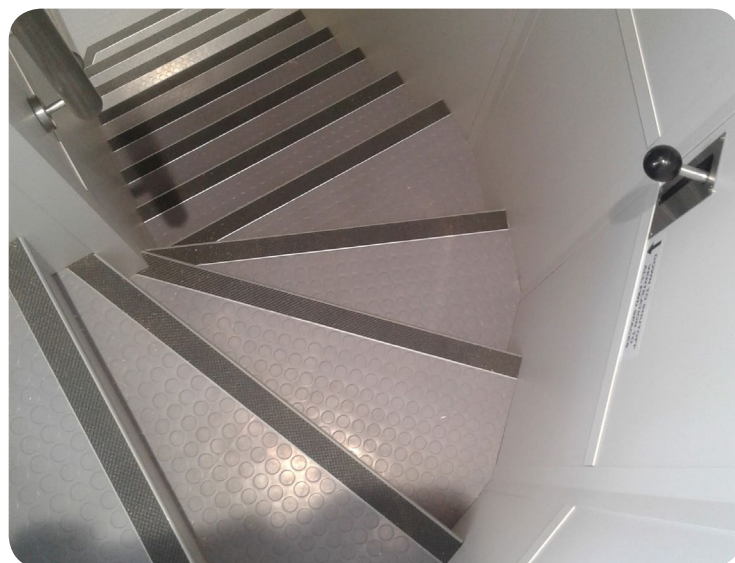

Built in Palmerston North by Profab Engineering, it sleeps 12 guests in 5 cabins and also features a Japanese Teppanyaki restaurant style barbecue on the fly bridge. Its decks offer three outdoor dining options.

The multi-role boat can be used for scuba diving, including compression chambers on board; ferrying crews to oil and gas rigs; and is fitted with a remote operated submarine to investigate underwater sites. The boat has a second helm at the back of the wheelhouse, and is equipped with dynamic positioning technology that keeps the boat in place regardless of waves and swells, at the touch of a joystick.

"The Beast" is one of the largest boats built in New Zealand and also comes with kayaks, paddle boards and fishing equipment.

Polyflor's Noppe Stud Tile, suitable for heavy commercial use in areas of high circulation was installed in the corridors, stair-cases, the galley and laundry area. Noppe stud flooring is a hard wearing rubber tile with a low-profile studded surface.

New Ocean Fish and Chip Restaurant Dives into the Palettone Collection with Custom Design

The Ocean Fish and Chips Restaurant in Preston features a maritime inspired décor. Designed by Nigel Phillips Design, six colours from the new Palettone PUR range were selected to create the bespoke floor in the dining area of the restaurant. Caramel Kick, Buttered Corn and Hay Grain featured to create a sand effect and the blues of Weekend Sky, Superior Sky and Sapphire Star were used in a waved pattern to create the Sea.

'For the Fish and Chip restaurant I chose to use the Polyflor Palettone range. Apart from having experienced the reliability and quality of Polyflor products on previous projects, Palettone has a wide range of colours which enabled me to create the sand and sea effect for the floor and was the perfect choice.' commented Nigel Phillips.
